

Troubleshooting Kundalini Based Problems

Keys didn't turn.	Those keys are highly sensitive. They will not turn if: the chakra is blocked. The pH is too low. The chakra is too damaged. The key was improperly made. The key was improperly programmed. One forgot to specifically tell the key to turn. One neglected to speak one's birth name into the key. Other things are possible.
Kundalini didn't rise.	The shushumna may be blocked. The pH may be too low. One's fontanel may not yet be closed. Root the chakra is blocked. The pH is too low. The chakra is too damaged. The seed was at the wrong angle or shape. The seed was improperly programmed. One forgot to specifically tell the seed to execute the program. One neglected to speak one's birth name into the seed. Other things are possible.
One is having strange thoughts, feelings, energy pressure, migraines.	Kundalini sickness may be caused by kundalini energy not flowing up the Brahma Nadi but going other places. Kundalini energy not anchored at Bindu chakra.
Every stage worked but nothing is happening.	One is now facing a learning curve. How to utilize what one has harmoniously created. The vehicle is made. It is plugged in and running. Now one needs to learn how to put it in gear. Each nadi of the shushumna is a gear, so to speak.
Too much pressure in head.	Energy needs to be moved to and stored in the lower dan tien. Use microcosmic orbit to move the energy out of the head. Use a vortex in the abdomen to store the energy there. Store in the area of the "strange flows" of the meridian system.
Uncomfortable or inconvenient thoughts, feelings, etc.	Lack of groundedness. Breath through your feet.
